Vol. 5, No. 4

Jeffersontown, Jefferson County, Ky., Thursday, July 13, 1911.

Every Thursday at $1.00 Per Year

FIFTH ANNUAL POPULARITY CONTEST

The Jeffersonian To Give Away Free $150 In Prizes.

$75.00 Diamond Ring, $50.00 Suite of Parlor Furniture and $25.00 Gold Watch To The Winners.

STARTS TO-MORROW, FRIDAY, JULY 14, 1911.

The Jeffersonian's Fifth Annual Popularity Contest starts to-morrow, Friday, July 14, 1911, and will continue until an early date in September, to be announced later.

A great number of people, and especially the young ladies have frequently asked us when The Jeffersonian would give its 1911 Contest. We had almost decided not to hold a contest this year, but the requests for it have been so numerous that we have decided to yield to the appeals and will start to-morrow the greatest popularity contest we have ever held.

Conditions of the Contest.

1. Any respectable white lady residing in Jefferson or adjoining counties may enter the contest by filling out the nominating ballot.
2. Any person, regardless of where they reside, may vote in this contest. One thousand votes will be given with each year subscription to The Jeffersonian at $1.00. Votes shall also be allowed by filling out the Free Ballot to be published each week in The Jeffersonian.
3. Votes cannot be bought. There shall be only two ways to secure votes—by subscription to the paper and by the Free Ballot published in The Jeffersonian. No subscription for more than five (5) years will be accepted from any one person.
4. The names of the contestants, together with the number of votes that have been cast for them, will be published in The Jeffersonian from time to time. A ballot box, securely locked, shall be kept at this office containing all ballots that have been cast.
5. A subscription ballot shall not be valid unless O. K'd. by J. C. or C. E. Alcock. It shall not be necessary to cast ballots when they are issued, but may be held out and voted at any time by the subscriber to another before they are cast, but after they are placed in the ballot box and counted they shall not be changed.
6. To the lady receiving the greatest number of votes shall be given a $75.00 Diamond Ring, or $50.00 in trade at the jewelry store of L. Huber & Son, Louisville.
7. To the lady receiving the second greatest number of votes shall be given a handsome $50.00 Parlor Suite, or $50.00 in trade at the furniture store of James Greene.
8. To the third greatest number of votes shall be given a $25.00 Gold Watch, or $25.00 in trade at the jewelry store of C. M. Wiseman & Son.

How to Win These Prizes.

One thousand votes will be given for each one year subscription to The Jeffersonian at $1.00. All persons paying their subscriptions during the contest will be allowed 1,000 votes on each subscription, and may vote for whom they please. These handsome prizes will be given to the "three most loyal friends" to our county paper, The Jeffersonian, or the "three most popular ladies" in Jefferson or adjoining counties. It is, in fact, a test of the loyalty of our friends to the best county institution, but at the same time winning these prizes also tests the popularity of the winners. No young lady can win in a Jeffersonian contest unless she is popular with a host of people. The prizes are certainly worth working for. They were purchased from reliable merchants and are guaranteed to be as represented. If you win a prize and do not care to accept it, what we have selected you may take something else of the same value at the store named. If you have a friend that you would like to see win one of these prizes, and if you want to see The Jeffersonian succeed, nominate her at once by filling out the nominating ballot and mail or bring it to this office. If you are fortunate enough to be of the feminine sex and want to win a handsome prize nominate yourself and go to work at once among your friends, asking them to work for you by getting subscriptions to The Jeffersonian. Write to your friends and relatives at distant places and get them to subscribe. Sit down and think of all your friends everywhere; write their names down and either go to see them, telephone or write to them. Tell them that you have gone into this contest to win.

Remember, that the contests of The Jeffersonian are fair to all—no favoritism will be shown whatever. It matters little to us to whom we may have the pleasure of presenting these handsome prizes—the subscriptions are what we are after. Go to work at once; if you do not want to get into the race yourself, nominate some friend and go to work for her.

LOBBY MUST GO

The People Have So Decried and Their Voice Must Be Heard.

Wallace Brown, the Man For Speaker—A Personal Sketch and What He Stands For.

Mr. Wallace Brown, of Bardonia, recently nominated for Representative of Nelson County has announced himself a candidate for Speaker of the Kentucky House of Representatives, and in a ringing card declares himself against the Frankfort patronage lobby, and pledges himself to use every effort to retire the "Third House" from politics, and to remove its influences from the legislative halls. The issue is clean cut and there will be no evasion of the question "Are you for or against the Frankfort lobby?" On several occasions these influences have dictated the election of the Speaker and the appointment of Committees by the patronage influence they were well able to exert and Mr. Brown is the only candidate that has declared his opposition to these forces openly and specifically and demands their retirement from politics. He will doubtless have their hearty opposition in his race for the Speakership, while at the same time one other announced candidate for Speaker has been regarded as the slated candidate for Speaker of some of these influential and powerful influences of the House with what understanding the friends of reform know not. At the same time these candidates are accepting the support of the "Third House" so far as the public knows in tolerance and semi-tolerance, any man who shall receive the support of these influences must of necessity wear their stamp and publicly give the lobby the credit of electing him in such a contingency should happen. There are strong reasons to believe that the Democratic caucus to be held in Frankfort next January will refuse absolutely to name any candidate for Speaker, Prison Commissioner or any other position within the gift of the House who wears the brand of the Frankfort lobby or becomes its beneficiary and if any supporter or beneficiary of the lobby should be elected it will be independence of over ninety-five percent of the voters of Kentucky, who have said the lobby, which openly and boldly operated in Frankfort at the last session of the General Assembly, must disband and retire absolutely from its obnoxious influence in elections throughout Kentucky and seek its hands out of legislation. The lobby has grown so arrogant in its assumption of power that several candidates have retired at the beck and call of its leaders and have surrendered and submitted without protest. At the next January session of the General Assembly the hope of the lobby, that opposition to its candidate for Speaker will disappear before its cunning hands, and the distribution of a few jobs and many promises, is as forlorn and desperate as the future political existence of the members of the lobby themselves. There will be opposition in every race to the finish on a final show-down.

This patronage privilege has been abused and no member has a right to accept some insignificant job, for a friend or himself from the lobby and thereby sell himself into the control of a little coterie of men, to vote against the best interests of the people who elected him, and the eyes of the people are focused on the members just now, and henceforth their records will be scrutinized very closely, and their constituency will be familiar with what they have done before the next election rolls around. Every member of the House owes it to his people to investigate closely the influences at work and make a pledge to any candidate for Speaker or Prison Commissioner, except on condition that such candidate shall stand squarely against the lobby and will aid in the organization of the House and its standing committee against the lobby to insure the passage of the reform measures, which will retire these influences from politics and legislation, at the same

BUECHEL

Monster Picnic.

Buechel, July 11.—The picnic given at the fairgrounds on the Fourth was quite a success and greatly enjoyed by all. Now we are looking forward to the big monster picnic to be held at the same place on Saturday, July 15th. This picnic has been well advertised and will, doubtless, be one of the largest given this season. This picnic is given under the auspices of the Buechel Commercial Club. Everybody is given a cordial invitation to join us.

Popular Couple Weds.

A wedding that was recently solemnized and that will be of interest to Buechel people was that of Mr. Peter A. Nickles, son of Mrs. Fredericka Nickles, having only recently moved to Louisville from their well known farm here at Buechel and where Mr. Nickles has many friends. The bride was formerly Miss Carrie Rapp, and the nuptials were performed at St. John's parsonage in Louisville. The couple will reside at 629 East Oak street.

Visit of Death Angel.

Again the death angel visited this community and took from this world Mr. William Henry Vetter, aged forty-two years. About two years ago he purchased his present home on the fairground road and with his family resided there. Death was due to a complication of diseases, following a prolonged illness. Funeral services were held at the late father's residence on Winter avenue at 8:45 o'clock and from St. Bridget's church at 9 a. m. Interment was in St. Louis cemetery. We extend sympathy to the bereaved ones—his wife, who was Miss Catherine Selbe, and eight children, also three sisters and seven brothers, who survive him.

Personal Notes.

Mr. Daye Wright and family had as their guests Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kay. Mr. George Groves and daughter, Miss Georgia, are spending two weeks with relatives at New Haven. Miss Groves was given a hayride on Wednesday night by a number of friends there.

Misses Rose and Florian Marsh, of Louisville, have returned to their time reserving the right to the last moment to withdraw that support should such candidate become the beneficiary of the Frankfort lobby. The people should organize and unite to the aid of those patriotic members of the General Assembly, who are making so gallant a fight to rid them of this hitherto invincible lobby, and should they do this in an earnest and careful manner in every county of Kentucky, the boasted power of the lobby will vanish to the four winds, and the friends of the people will organize the House and name its standing committees.

Personal Sketch.

Mr. Wallace Brown, candidate for Speaker, spent his early life on a farm near Bloomfield, Ky. He was educated in the public schools and at Kentucky Wesleyan College, Winchester, Ky., and Centre College, Danville, Ky., graduating from the latter institution with a large class in June 1896, with honors, being winner of the Beatty Alumnae Scholarship prize. During the several years of his college life he was an active member of the literary and debating societies and at different times was President and Vice President of these societies, both at Winchester and Danville. His experience as a parliamentarian in these and other positions amply qualify him for the position of Speaker.

In 1897 he was nominated and elected Clerk of the Circuit Court in Nelson county, and was renominated and re-elected without opposition and served for twelve years and was recently nominated by the Democrats for Representative of Nelson county without opposition. Mr. Brown is an unserving Democrat and has always been an untiring party speaker and worker. He is also editor of the Bluegrass Standard and a personal friend of the editor of The Jeffersonian who at one time was associated with him in the publication of the Standard. Mr. Brown will make an ideal speaker and it is so he hoped that he will be elected.

Stop Borrowing from Your Neighbor

BUY YOUR OWN FARM IMPLEMENTS

Once upon a time a farmer who was too economical to buy his own implements sent his little boy to borrow a plow from his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a bee hive and in ten minutes looked like a watery summer squash.

His cry reached his father, who ran to his assistance and failing to see a barbed-wire fence ran into it, breaking it down and cutting a handful of flesh from its anatomy and ruining a $5 pair of trousers. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence, got into the corn field and killed herself eating green corn.

Hearing the racket, his wife ran, upsetting a four gallon churn of rich cream into a basket of kittens, drowning the whole flock. In her hurry she dropped and broke a $7 set of false teeth. The baby, left alone, crawled through the split cream into the parlor and ruined a $25 carpet. During the excitement, the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, the calves got out, and the dog broke up ten setting hens.

"Epaminondas" Causes Trouble.
He is nothing more nor less than a small, half-grown pup, and a yellow pup at that. He followed Mr. Harry Shively out from the city, and as he did not know what to call him, he thought of the name Epaminondas, and named her boy Epaminondas, and said, "Epaminondas, you haven't the sense you were born with, and you nebbes has had and you nebbes will have," and so he named the dog Epaminondas, and when the trouble came in is that the boys over there cannot remember the dog's name. Some call him Hippopotamus, and some Hippocampus, and some Shep, while some say "that pup of yours." Now if you want to know anything further about this yellow pup, I suggest that you drop Mr. Harry Shively a card and ask him to tell you all about it. A shower of post cards would be alright. His postoffice is Buechel, Ky.

THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1911.

WHAT do the property holders of Jefferson Heights think about getting together for the purpose of keeping the grounds clean? Let's hear from somebody.

THE Glasgow Fair Association has been given the right to collect gate receipts for the second day to the Lincoln Road. It is a most generous donation, and the public can smell the receipts very materially by buying tickets for that day.—Glasgow Times.

If the Fern Creek Fair Company could see their way clear in doing the same thing the benefits would be great, as all of Louisville and Jefferson county would turn out to help boost the receipts.

THE Tennessee Legislature recently passed a measure giving one-third of the State revenue to the cause of education. This makes it look like the people in Tennessee are wide-awake to their own interests. Why doesn't Kentucky spend more money for education?

NEXT month school trustees for one-half the sub-districts in Jefferson county will be elected. How many parents have thought of this important office? Are we to let the places go begging like they did last year? A school trustee should be the very best man in the district, and if you want to have a successful school the coming year you should at once get busy in selecting a suitable person as trustee for your school. Please do not neglect this important matter. The city people are taking care of their children—why can't we do the same in the country? Our boys and girls, are just as worthy as the boys and girls in the city.

In another column of this issue we have something to say of the candidacy of Hon. Wallace Brown for Speaker of the next House of Representatives, which we trust the political leaders of the state will read and think about. Mr. Brown boldly stands out against the lobby at Frankfort, and is the only candidate for speaker that does. How the members of the House can support any other candidate and expect to render to the state the best service cannot see. The democrats are in the majority, and for the success of the party a man should be elected Speaker who is not afraid to fight the lobby or any other corrupt organization. Read the article about Mr. Brown's candidacy, and then use your influence for him, if you believe in curbing this great evil at Frankfort.

It is reported that Hon. L. C. Owings, of Jeffersontown, will have opposition for the nomination of Representative from the Forty-fourth District of Jefferson county. The people of the county are so well pleased with Mr. Owings' services during the last meeting of the Legislature that it is hardly necessary to look upon anybody else as being an opponent of his for the office again—he would have such a "walk-over" that you wouldn't know any one was in the race but him. Mr. Owings has not announced for reelection, but we understand he will at an early date. No man stands higher with the city and county Democrats than Mr. Owings, and no man is better qualified to represent the county of Jefferson outside the city than he. He is a farmer himself and the farmers are for him.

YEAR by year Kentucky's game and fish grow less on account of the unlawful slaughter of same and it is time something was being done to prevent it. The Jeffersonian endorses the law advocated by the Kentucky Fish and Game Protective Association, which will impose a one-dollar-a-year license on every one who hunts on another man's land, and to charge residents of other states at least ten dollars for hunting in Kentucky. The funds so raised would be used for the employment of game wardens, who would devote their time to the enforcement of the game and fish laws and in protecting posted lands from trespassers. There is no sport quite so popular as hunting and fishing, and Kentucky being an ideal state for such, it is up to the farmers and others to protect themselves. Do not let this matter go unnoticed, but see your representatives and get a law passed that will bring about the results desired.

In delivering an address to the Christian Endeavor Society, Champ Clark, Speaker of the National House of Representatives, said:

"Hooligans run nine-tenths of our elections, and the hoodlum who goes out and votes is 5 better man than the citizen who fails to cast his ballot. It is the duty of every citizen to take a hand in politics, and those fine-headed citizens who say they are too busy to enter politics are bad citizens."

You hear Christian men, and good moral men, frequently say that they will have nothing to do with politics because men in politics are corrupt. It will be well for these men to think about what Champ Clark has truthfully said. While attending the Beulah Sunday-school picnic at the fairgrounds the fourth we were discussing this subject with a number of good farmers of the county and they were of the opinion that all is bad in politics and that good men had better stay out. One said that he had been asked to accept a position of school trustee, but as conditions were so bad he "didn't want to have anything to do with it," although he had five children to educate. Still, some people wonder why Kentucky stands so low educationally and why there is so much fraud in political parties. When will the good people of the good old state of Kentucky wake up and demand their rights? If we haven't more good people than bad people in the state, it is time to either go to work and better conditions or move out entirely.

COURT HOUSE NOTES.

Circuit Judges have closed their courts for the summer vacation.

Sheriffs and Clerks never close their offices.

Sheriff Emiler, "de baby," has gone to the fatherland on a vacation trip of two months.

"Buck" Kenchack is acting Sheriff during the absence of the Sheriff.

Probation Officers McCullough and Meyers are also taking vacation.

Miss Mattie Crutcher, stenographer in the Probation office, is spending a two weeks' vacation at the home of her parents in Daviess county.

Capt. H. I. Fox, Court reporter for the Herald, was a candidate for R. R. Commissioner before the Republican Convention, but was lost at the post.

Fox is a fine fellow and deserves a better fate.

The court house yard is becoming beautiful, as the flowers are now blooming quite profusely. The privet hedge makes a beautiful border.

The erection of a ten-story building just opposite the court house, which has already begun, will materially help the appearance of things on court house square.

And in the very near future there will be erected at fifth and Jefferson another "skyscraper." Both these new buildings will be up-to-date and will be office buildings.

The nominations for state offices having been made by both parties, it will not be long until we will have politics galore, but when it is in Kentucky we do not have plenty of politics?

By the way, we notice that Mr. Owings, of Jeffersontown, is to have opposition in the county in his own party for the seat in the legislature.

Looks like a term's experience ought to be a great help to Owings as a legislator. Guess it would be a good idea for the county folks to hold on to a former representative.

Let everybody attend the good roads picnic at the Fair Grounds Saturday.

Supt. Stivers is right on his job these hot days. Well, he was raised in God's sunshine and a little hot air won't over come him.

The county fairs are nearly ripe enough to pull off.

O'REAR

To Lead the Republicans To Victory or Defeat.

Convention Held in Louisville To Nominate Candidates For State Offices.

The Republican State Convention held in Louisville this week to nominate candidates for State offices was decidedly an O'Rear-Bradley gathering. Senator Bradley was chairman, and O'Rear got everything he wanted.

Amid the wildest enthusiasm Edward C. O'Rear, of Montgomery county, was nominated by the Republican of Kentucky as their standard bearer in the campaign of 1911. Not a voice was raised in protest and not a hand was lifted to stem the tide that made the distinction between his party's nominee for Governor.

Judge O'Rear, with, perhaps, the exception of Senator Bradley, dictated everything that was done, even to nominating other nominees for the various offices. Popular E. S. Helburn, mayor of Middlesboro, had the nomination for Lieutenant Governor cinched until O'Rear announced that he wanted all men on the ticket to believe as he did on state issues, and as Helburn did not agree with him on the county unit proposition, it is said, he was defeated. The whiskey people have been fighting O'Rear with strong forces, but the able jurist won out. Helburn is one of the best men in the state and made a bitter fight, but the influence of O'Rear overwhelmed him. L. L. Bristol received the nomination for Herman Monroe, former jailer of Jefferson county, received the nomination for State Treasurer. Mr. Monroe is popular in Louisville and will add strength to the ticket.

A platform similar to the one Democrats have been talking about was adopted. It endorses better schools, is against the lobby at Frankfort, etc.

Following is the Republican nominations for state offices as made at the convention:

Governor—E. C. O'Rear, of Montgomery county.

Lieutenant Governor—L. L. Bristol, of Scott county.

Auditor—W. B. Bethum, of Rockcastle county.

Secretary of State—A. J. Oliver, of Allen county.

Attorney General—Tom B. McGregory, of Marshall county.

Treasurer—Herman Monroe, of Louisville.

Superintendent of Public Instruction—T. W. Vinson, of Caldwell county.

Commissioner of Agriculture—D. W. Clark, of Knox county.

Clerk of the Court of Appeals—C. N. Wilson, of the Eleventh district.

DEATH ANGEL

Pays Visit To Mrs. Mary Etta Carmichael, Who Passes Away at Advanced Age.

Mrs. Mary Etta Dale Carmichael, widow of the late J. W. Carmichael, passed away at her home in Fisherville Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, after an illness of about two years with Bright's disease. Mrs. Carmichael would have been seventy-five years old next month, and has spent the greatest part of her life in Jefferson county.

In the fall of 1877 Mrs. Carmichael united with the Presbyterian church, and lived a most charitable and consistent Christian life. At the time of her death she was a member of the Cane Run Presbyterian church. It being more convenient, the funeral services were held at the Baptist church at Fisherville, conducted by Rev. G. C. Overstreet yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. The remains were interred in Cave Hill cemetery beside her husband, who preceded her to the grave about eight years ago.

Splendid Report From Delegate.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church met with the president, Mrs. S. E. Kennedy, on last Thursday afternoon, at which time the report from the annual session, which recently convened at Owensboro, was read. It was a very full and splendid report and the society certainly made no mistake in sending Mrs. Lonnie McDaniel as the official delegate and have cause to feel proud of their representative. Those who were not present to hear the report missed a treat.

CORRECTION

Regarding the Complaint of South Jefferson Commercial Club to Fiscal Court—
Club Not "Snubbed."

Editor The Jeffersonian: Under the head "Criticism" in your issue of July 6th, 1911, concerning the action of the Fiscal Court on a complaint filed by the South Jefferson County Commercial Club, in which it was stated no action was taken by the Court on the resolution submitted by the Club, it appears to the public that the Fiscal Court had snubbed the South Jefferson County Commercial Club. The facts are, the Jefferson County Fiscal Court received the communication of our Club with the greatest possible courtesy, granting every request contained in it. The fact that the Court summoned the Honorable Commissioner, and required him to explain the delay in perfecting the arrangements for the construction of the Salt River bridge contradicts the statement that the Court took no action.

The Honorable Commissioner did not explain, nor attempt to do so, the cause of his failure to do anything in the premises between April, 1910, the time of his appointment, and April, 1911, to June 5th, 1911, to commence his correspondence with the Bureau of Engineers of the War Department. He did, however, plead ignorance of the law as an excuse for not observing the necessary formality of citing the authority for constructing a bridge across Salt River in his request for permission to erect the specific character of bridge, the plans for which he submitted.

The only interest our Club has in the matter is to see to it that the bridge is erected, if possible, during the present year, and that some more intelligent and active interest shall be taken in the matter by our Commissioner. We do not believe that ignorance of the law is a valid excuse for the long delay in securing the permission of the United States Government to proceed with the work on that bridge.

Congratulating you upon the character of your paper, every issue of which is filled with interesting matter, I have the honor to be, with great respect,

Very truly yours,
DUDLEY S. REYNOLDS

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it is like a closed curtain which shuts out sound, and the hearing is lost. Unless this inflammation is removed, deafness is permanent.

GAME AND FISH

Nearly All Gone in the State of Kentucky—
Something Should Be Done.

Unless something is done in the near future to prevent the wholesale destruction of fish and game in and out of season, Kentucky fields will be bare of birds and the streams without fish. Even now there is but little use for the gun or pole and line, and the scarcity of game and fish is a constant inducement to violation of law in the shooting of game out of season and in the use of dynamite and seines.

Two things are necessary for the preservation of the game and fish. One of these is the protection of the game now existing, and the other is the stocking of streams and fields by means of fish hatcheries and game preserves.

The killing off of the game was a result of a prejudice against game laws, based on the belief that game laws were advocated solely for the benefit of city hunters, but the people now realize that good game laws are for the benefit of everybody.

The Kentucky Fish and Game Protective Association is now trying to get every hunter and fisherman in the State interested in the passage of better laws along this line. One of its plans is for the State to charge a license of one dollar per year to every man who hunts on other men's land, and to charge non-residents of Kentucky at least ten dollars per year for hunting in this State. Similar laws are now and have for years past been in force in every State in

The Girl of My Dreams

A Laugh-Producing Comedy of Errors

One of the Most Amusing Stories You Have Ever Had the Pleasure of Reading

On the eve of a visit from his affianced wife and when all the world seems bright and lovely, Harry Swifton suddenly becomes involved in a maze of unfortunate circumstances that threaten to wreck his happiness.

the Union except Kentucky and about three other States.

Under such a law a sufficient fund could be raised to employ men to see that the fish and game laws are enforced, and to provide stocks of fish and game for every field and stream in the State. Of course, if a man doesn't care a dollar's worth about hunting he wouldn't have to have a license, and the burden would fall on those who would be glad to pay so small a sum for so much pleasure.

One of the big benefits to be derived by the farmers would be the enforcement of the posting laws and keeping trespassers off of their lands. Under the present conditions, a great many farmers allow themselves to be imposed upon rather than drive hunters away, but a paid game warden would have no such feelings in the matter.

In order to make the employment of wardens non-political, it is proposed to put the employment of the wardens under the supervision of a non-partisan commission of four, two to be selected by the Senate and two by the House of Representatives, who shall serve without compensation except for necessary expenses.

Here Is a Strange One.

Mrs. E. A. Brandon, the wife of our Methodist preacher, prepared some beans for dinner last week and put some squash on top of them to cook, and when she tasted the squash they were as bitter as quinine, then she tasted the beans and the bacon and they were also bitter. Now, the question is, what caused them to be bitter? She had cooked beans before in the same vessel and since then and they were not bitter. What do you think of that?

CARD OF THANKS.

Jeffersontown, Ky., July 5, 1911.—Please allow me through your good paper to express my sincere thanks to the many friends that responded so quickly to help and sympathize and do for me in the saddest hour of life—in the death of my dear wife. Everyone was so good and kind to me that I can not find words to express my love and thanks to them for their many good deeds and beautiful flowers. What could I have done without the help of these noble God-loving people? May God's richest and very best blessings rest upon them. My loss is her gain and the loss is hard to me to bear. She was so frail and weak, but her willing and faithful hands were always ready to do good for me and others, and more than once I have known her to get out of her bed of sickness to do for the sick, but she has gone home to her reward—where our good Father in Heaven will know her heart and her ways; home where she will have no toil and work, where she will have no heart-ache, no pain nor sorrow. She can no more come to me, but I can go to her, and by the help of my Maker I will try to meet her over there on that golden shore. She loved the song, "Looking This Way," and now she is looking this way for me and for you, and I ask my church and all Christians to pray for me that I may be prepared to answer the call when it comes for me. We know not how soon we will have to answer, and if I have wronged any one I ask God and them to forgive me. It is all I can do.

And, dear Savior, I will follow on, guided by thee, seeing not yet the hand that leadeth me.

Hushed by my heart and still fear I see further ill, only to meet thy will my shall be.
